

Super Bowl MVP Von Miller Wants to Give You a Free Pair of Glasses

Von's Vision, the foundation of Denver Broncos Linebacker and Super Bowl 50 MVP Von Miller, is bringing its outreach to major NFL cities and is coming to Greater Atlanta on Saturday, October 9th for its signature Von's Vision Day program.

Optometrists will be on hand Saturday, October 9th from 8:00 to 1:00 at The Martin Luther King, Sr Community Resources Collaborative Bldg to provide no-cost eye exams and vision screenings to kids in need. Any student who needs prescription glasses will receive a brand-new pair of Etnia Barcelona glasses, free of charge.

Von's Vision Day is designed to provide a helping hand to families with little or no insurance. Participants are encouraged to register for an appointment time in advance. We have limited appointment slots available, so be sure to register early. Again, this program is completely free to families needing a hand-up.

To register, please visit www.vonmiller.org/page/examday

